Hello everyone! New video for you – Cars vs Deep Water in the game BeamNG.Drive. In this part, you will see how the highway was flooded and cars fall into a Hello everyone! New video for you – Cars vs Deep Water in the game BeamNG.Drive. The road was flooded with the river. But there is no other way. You will see I drove my car through a very deep water puddle by accident. Now there is a gasoline/exhaust type of smell inside the car when I drive. Is there a type of water damage to the engine that can cause this odor? I drive a not-so-common car: A 2009 Smart Car. The engine is at the rear of the car.

Driving through high water can have a disastrous effect on your car's engine. This is what happens when you drive your car through high water. Depending on where you live, flash flooding might be an issue you see from time to time and some day you could face a situation where driving through high water is unavoidable. If no water got into the vehicle, then you can stop there. IF water got into the vehicle, your main concern is checking the fuse box for water and drying the area so it doesn't corrode and lead to electrical issues. Also do yourself a favor and dry out the carpet ASAP or you will have mold and stinky smells. The car stalls in high water, making it difficult to start, as the air intake may suck water into the engine and hydro-lock the motor. As the water fills the cylinder, it is impossible for the pistons to compress the water. You can start your car after it stalls in high water, by removing the spark plugs and discharging the water from the
